01 Our Commitment

We're a concrete flooring contractor, and quality matters to us because our clients matter to us. We aim to meet, and exceed, what our clients expect from every finish we deliver.

We're committed to continuous improvement, and we run a Quality Management System to keep our standards consistent on every site.

02 How We Keep Standards Up

We support total customer satisfaction and continuous improvement through:

- Gathering and monitoring client feedback.
- A structured review of any client complaint.
- Choosing and monitoring our suppliers and labour agencies.
- Training and development for every employee and operative.
- Audits of our internal processes and site operations.
- Measurable quality objectives tied to our business aims.
- Management reviews of audit results, feedback, and complaints.
- Regular review of our internal procedures.

03 Everyone's Responsibility

The Managing Director holds ultimate responsibility for quality, but every employee and subcontractor plays a part in their own area of work. Our Quality Management System is aligned with the core principles of ISO 9001.
